Colonel Fremont's Life.

Colonel Fremont's Life.

Mountains,' a man who has opened to America the gates of her Pacific cuspire.

A BOOK OF RARE INTEREST.

The Life, Explorations and Public Services of JOHN CHARLES FREMONT.

Beautifully illustrated from original drawings.

For thou wert of the mountains, they proclaim The everlasting creed of liberty."—Bayaxr.

Colonel Fremont is one of the most adventurous spirits that have appeared in our time. His romantic history will be illustrated from scenes taken in daguerrectype by himself, while on his great expeditions. The work will be ready in a few days, and orders may now be forwarded to the publishers.

Colonel Fremont not only fixed the locality of that great South Pass of the Rocky Mountains, through which myriads now press their way to California, but he defined the astronomy, geography, botsany, geology and meteorology of the country, and described the route since followed, and designated the points from which the dag of the Union is now flying from a chain of wilderness fortresses.

[From he New York Tribune.]

Everybody should get it and read it.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK, —THE FIRST NUMBER OF Ut the fifty-third volume is now issued. The Publisher would call attention to the magnificent engraving contained in this beautiful number, "Hallowed be Thy Name," pronounced by all to be really a sweet and beautiful engraving, Godey's unrivalled colored fashions. In this department, as in all others, the Lady's Book stands unrivalled. The fashion plates in this number contain models for ladies' and children's dresses. The American slipper, —To those in want of a really beautiful slipper, the publisher begs to call their attention to the pattern contained in this number. It is truly American, being composed of the beautiful colors of the American flag, In addition to the above, the July number contains patterns for work bars, card baskets, embroidery, table covers, ottomans, erochet fringe, &c., in all fifty-two engravings. As this is the first number of a new volume, it is an excellent time to subscribe.
